I know--it is literally unbelievable. It makes me feel so, so gross and sick about B'ham and Michigan in general. They aren't squeezing VG because they need him to keep his yap shut. Bastards. And the thought of those two fucks H. Lee and his wife living until their early 90's--unbelievable!!! They probably had to drink so much gin they were probably pickled by the end. Or maybe they were just such cold, narcissistic, sick people that they just weathered the storm by simple denial and a sense of entitlement. Did my Dad tell you that Lawson told Dave Binkley that he used to get boys for old H. Lee to have sex with? And is that any surprise? Lawson could be lying, but given what is in Cribari's book, it seems to me the scale tips in favor of truth on that one.

I went through about two years of being infuriated and incensed. I am now just calmly sickened and disgusted. The bottom line is that I trust none of them; they all are looking out for #1. Shameless. I see through all of them. It is not pleasant.

there may never be an official end. So what. As I have said before, that has been the biggest goal; make sure there is no end. No answers means people will lose interest. In view of everything that has come to light, they still want to say there are no answers??

MSP has given my Dad. A lot of that stuff speaks for itself.

We will get you every fucking piece of paper the or ready to go long before that. If he was someone with steel balls to still be in the system and make waves or speak the ultimate truth. They all

As I said, I am now calmly sickened and disgusted--not only by the parade of jokers who have passed the turd in these cases, but also by the Oakland County judges in the two FOIA cases. Does everyone have to be a pussy? I guess so. Wait long enough and everything blows over.

Thanks for both of these responses. Don't know if I'll ever get over how Fox Island was just completely dismissed, how Shelden got away with little more than a Traverse City newspaper tracking him, how is it that H. Lee lived here, untouched, into the early nineties (even when task force shows up at his son's suicide) how nobody, it seems, led a full scale investigation into a Birmingham art dealer's savage killing, how a "grieving" widow didn't publicly assail the lack of police work on the case, how is it that his son is now on the fox island lighthouse commission? Why aren't they squeezing gunnels??

Again I've said this so many times before....if it's infuriating for me, I can't even imagine what you guys contend with.

y. Whatever that

But without knowing where he is headed or without a timeline as to when there might be an end, it's frustrating. I don't like being strung along but I also need what he has. I'll let you you know how it goes.
