

4 cities take April 22 1978 investigators off task force

By JOE STEBBINS
Press Staff Writer

BIRMINGHAM — The Oakland County Child Killer Task Force will lose one-third of its manpower by the end of June.

Four area police departments — Troy, Royal Oak, Livonia and Berkley — will remove their officers from the investigation. But each of the communities will continue contributing $200 a month through Dec. 31.

The manpower decisions didn't surprise the task force.

"When we were funded last January, we knew it was only until the end of June, so we were anticipating the loss of some men and maybe some money," says Sgt. Joseph Krease, assistant task force coordinator.

"Some of those departments are hurting for men and we have to respect their judgment.

"Like Berkley. Their entire detective department has only two men, and it cuts them in half to send one here. They can only take that so long."

When the four departments remove their men from the investigation, the task force will be cut from 15 investigators to 10, Krease says.

"Losing personnel always hurts your investigation, and maybe we will change the priorities on the stuff we handle. It will hinder our work because you can always do more with more men, but we intend to stay on it and do the best we can.

"As long as there is information to follow, we will continue to work on it."

The number of tips left for investigators is slowly dwindling, and it is possible

083 there will be no need for the task force by December.

"It all depends on how fast we clear the information we have left and how many tips we get this summer as to when we decide to close down," Krease says.

"There certainly would be no point in continuing operations if we were just waiting for information."

Task force commander Lt. Robert Robertson has speculated the force could shut down this fall.

Task force coordinators recently approached the 24 communities contributing resources, seeking funding through the end of the year. The task force's budget of about $4,800 a month was based on full financial participation of the communities.

The budget, however, only pays for overhead and operating expenses. Investigators and their vehicles are financed by their home departments, Krease said.

"It is too early to tell if all of the communities will continue the funding, but we expect they will," Krease says. "We expect to have some response from them by the middle of May."

Spokesmen for some of the departments removing men from the operation say their decisions were a question of manpower.

"At one time we had seven men down there," says Troy Capt. Robert Mortensen. "It is simply a scaling down of the task force and a question of manpower in our department."

The task force is investigating the abduction-slayings of four area children between February 1976 and March 1977.

e Gremlin owners

March 16 trip. His body — sexually abused, carefully cleaned and suffocated — was dumped beside a road in Livonia six days later.

Police believe the person who murdered him killed three other Oakland County youngsters, aged 10 to 12, in the previous 14 months.

A description of the car and a drawing of the man based on details the woman supplied were widely circulated. The tipster didn't know the model year of the auto she saw. The task force soon was swamped by reports of blue Gremlins and men thought to resemble the sketch.

Officers have checked thousands of those tips without success.

If the operation is put into effect, a computer would break down blue Gremlins by the communities in which the owners live.

Police in each community would get a list of the owners there, along with a task force request to check each one not already investigated and determine where the Gremlin was on the evening of March 16.

"It's a hell of a lot of work," one task force investigator said Tuesday. "I don't know how the (local police) chiefs would feel if we sent them a list of 50 names and said, 'Go check 'em.'"

Even so, the project is being seriously considered, if only because the task force has few other promising leads left to pursue.

Oakland child

Volunteers will deliver child killer handbills

6-17-75

too. We hope to cover all of south Oakland County."

Robertson believes the area will be covered within 10 days.

About 25,000 handbills were printed at a cost of $1,000. The tab was split between the Task Force and the Birmingham Kiwanis Club.

Any person or organization interested in obtaining a handbill, should write the Task Force, 32605 Bellvine Trail, Birmingham 48010.

children in 1976 and 1977. It also advertises the $100,000 reward offered for information leading to his arrest and conviction.

Police hope posting the handbills in local businesses and public places will turn up new leads in the case.

Off-duty postmen will distribute handbills in Birmingham, Troy, Royal Oak, Madison Heights, Huntington Woods, Pleasant Ridge and Berkley. Robertson said, "The letter carriers think that other branches will pick up the ball, Citizens, companies, and community groups offered to distribute the messages.

Lt. Robert Robertson, of the Task Force, said, "One man even offered to pay the postage on all the handbills we wanted to send out. This shows the public still supports us."

Eventually carriers from local branches said they would deliver the handbills on their own time.

The handbills show a profile, physical description and color sketch of the man suspected of killing four Oakland County

BIRMINGHAM — The Oakland County Police Task Force had thousands of handbills postmen agreed to deliver, for free, to local businesses.

The day they were scheduled to go out, postal officials informed the carriers it was against regulations to distribute any material without charging for it.

The misunderstanding meant the handbills about the Oakland County Child Killer couldn't go anywhere.

When the Task Force's plight was made public, its office was deluged with calls.

42. Jordan feels that the abductor asked Tim for directions or told him that he was sent to take him somewhere.
43. Tim went voluntarily.
44. The abductor was in the drugstore.
45. He was using the second phone to the left.
46. The abductor may have purchased beer.
47. The abductor was dark with black hair.
48. Jordan has two people in mind.
49. The abductor may have been talking to this other person on the phone.
50. Jordan had written the word "moffet" this morning. It may have been "buffet" for Monahan's Buffet (a local eatery).

After visiting the King crime scene, Jordan was taken to the Mihelich up site. The following are some of his observations as they appeared in the investigation file:

The psychic "felt" there was an Irish Setter barking somewhere close-by; the name Sherry was significant—the killer may have been calling the victim Sherry; the girl's body was in the front seat, and the person unloading her was crying; the smell of baby powder.

Then, the psychic wished to visit the area around the Seven-Eleven where the abduction was presumed to have taken place.

[He] received indications that Kristine did not make it to the Seven-Eleven store; that the abductor sat and watched her cross the street from a parking lot; that she may have been tied for a short period of time; that she was passive and submissive when taken captive, there was no harsh treatment; that the killer felt regret when he killed her; that if he had sexual contact with the child, it would have been oral.

The psychic also felt that:

Her captor killed her because he was doing away with something in his past; that he really preferred male victims, but he was trying to prove he is normal, that is, heterosexual, and that is why he took a female victim.

The following day, Jordan and Redsicker were driven to the spot along busy I-75 where Jill Robinson's body had been found. His observations again were interesting, even startling, but not particularly useful.

He again "felt" a blue car, with two men in it arguing, one of them (not the killer) had dark hair, and was the subject he heard on the Danto tape (the

10. Tim was not as tormented as the others. It doesn't seem as though he was tormented for a length of time.
11. He [Tim] did not go through some of the things the others did.
12. The killer wanted to get rid of Tim as quickly as possible.
13. There was a fear with him, a fear of disposing of him.
14. He [Jordan] feels that a dark blue vehicle (sedan) was used.
15. Killer came from the north (Eight Mile Road) onto Gill Road.
16. Tim was in the back end of the car (trunk).
17. Killer came from the west to Gill Road and left in that direction (toward the expressway).
18. Killer was frightened by something.
19. The tree farm was significant.
20. He [Jordan] smells the odor of grapes (may be significant).
21. He [Jordan] is concerned with a sewage-treatment plant or water-treatment facility.
22. He [Jordan] is drawn to the park again (Poppleton).
23. Tim was wrapped in a rug at some time.
24. Kensington is significant. Jordan is drawn to this area [there is a metropolitan park called Kensington about forty miles west of Birmingham . . . also numerous streets in the metropolitan area are named Kensington — author's note].
25. The rug is maroon or pink, a more fleshy color.
26. The car is a bigger car, it is not an economy car.
27. It is blue in color.
28. There were two vehicles. One is used to pick up the victim, while the other is used to transport the body.
29. He [Jordan] is also drawn to Lathrup Village.
30. The water tower is on a stand.
31. He [Jordan] sees the boy walking towards the tank (tower) with a skateboard and gum [the skateboard was all over the newspapers and television — author's note].
32. Tim went willingly with his abductor.
33. Tim approached the abductor's vehicle from the passenger side.
34. He [Jordan] feels that the abduction of the King youth took place in the center of the parking lot.
35. The abductor went out the south side and turned right toward Woodward.
36. He [the abductor] then turned right again and went to the park (Poppleton).
37. The park is significant.
38. He [Jordan] feels that the abductor may have previously observed the child.
39. He [Jordan] sees a dark green car (a metal-flake green).
40. It is a large car (Pontiac or Oldsmobile size).
41. Tim did approach the car from the passenger's side, and the window was down; he spoke to the abductor through the window.

42. Jordan feels that he was sent to t
43. Tim went volun
44. The abductor w
45. He was using th
46. The abductor r
47. The abductor w
48. Jordan has two
49. The abductor m
50. Jordan had writ "buffet" for Mo

After visiting the drop site. The following in the investigation file

The psychic "felt" the name Sherry was si Sherry; the girl's boy was crying; the sm

Then, the psychic store where the abduct

[He] received indic store; that the abdu lot; that she may h passive and submit that the killer felt r with the child, it w

The psychic also

Her captor killed he that he really prefer mal, that is, hetero

The following di along busy I-75 where tions again were inter

He again "felt" a bl killer) had dark ha him as he worked the scene to jot some of his primary thoughts down. He would fill in on the way back.

Jerry pulled slowly down Gill Road, stopped at the exact spot along where Timmy's body had lain some five months ago, and the got out. Jerry pulled back about thirty feet and parked, letting ne idle. He watched Jordan pace the site, staying pretty much fifteen foot radius of where the body had lain. He watched him veral times, resting the clipboard on his knee to make notes. dan finished in about fifteen minutes. He walked slowly back up d to where Jerry sat. The psychic turned once to look back at the just finished working, then wordlessly got into the car. He imy began fingering the jacket again as he continued jotting more down on the clipboard. Tobias turned the car and headed back r Woods.

dan's debriefing was completed in less than two hours. The ses; recorded, then transcribed for distribution to Command. The ; thoughts were interesting, but far from revolutionary. Of the list tems, or "thoughts," many were general in nature, some, though could be made to fit the scenario if one tried hard enough, and re downright wild and appeared to be little more than guesses. ere common-sense thoughts, such as Jordan's "feeling" that King lingly with his abductor. There were many similar "thoughts" exy the man from New York. The transcription prepared by Tobias ih to Command included the following list:

nscrip Summary B--Comments from the Timmy King drop site. (Sub- t utilized the King boy's jacket here.)

- Jordan feels that a white van may be involved here.
- It is a step van with sliding door.
- There is a large tank of water associated with this. The killer and King had to pass this tank [there is a water tower near Poppleton Park-- author's note].
- There is a pine tree farm associated with this, a nursery.
- The killer and Timothy came by a tree farm and water tank.
- The killer stopped by a water tank for some purpose.
- Jordan sees a number 722 or 272. These numbers could be arranged differently.
- The white van may be associated with the killer's employment rather than the abduction [perhaps the delivery route Allen referred to in his letter to Danto--author's note].
- Jordan feels that a sedan may have been used in the crime.

7 everything on here, was in connection to and he keeps reading it

STATE OF MICHIGAN
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE 26TH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT

[(517) 356-0574]

Recipient of support

[NIKEY] NO: B6-007372DP (S)
SUPPORT SPECIALIST

Payer

END OCT 596.90
+ 12.00

DEC 1st

copy

MOTION FOR ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE

The Friend of the Court states:

- 1) A support order was entered in this matter on May 5, 1986.
- 2) This order required that the payer pay the sum of $ 35 per week.
- 3) The Office of the Friend of the Court has reviewed the files and has determined that there is an arrearage in support, service fees and court costs in the amount of $ 470 as of this date.
- 4) The arrearages exceed the statutory amount allowed.

3.05
96.90 +12

NOW, THEREFORE, THE FRIEND OF THE COURT REQUESTS that this Honorable Court issue an order to show cause why the payer should not be held in contempt for failure to comply with the order of this Court and/or why court costs should not be assessed against the payer for costs incurred herein by the Office of the Friend of the Court.

I declare that the statements above are true to the best of my information, knowledge and belief.

October 3, 1990
DATE

Roland C. Fancher
ROLAND C. FANCHER
FRIEND OF THE COURT

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE

At a session of said Court, held in the City of Alpena, County of Alpena and State of Michigan on October 8, 1990

PRESENT: HONORABLE JOSEPH P. SWALLOW CIRCUIT JUDGE

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the payer, shall appear before this court on November 6, 1990 at 12:30 p.m. to show cause why payer should not be held in contempt for failure to comply with the court's order.

Joseph P. Swallow
JOSEPH P. SWALLOW
CIRCUIT JUDGE

CERTIFICATE OF MAILING

I certify that on this date I mailed a copy of this Order to the parties by ordinary mail to their last known addresses.

October 8, 1990
Date

Dickie Lee Taylor
Signature

BLK 00933

1 736 14/3

2 *612

3 Robertson in 1979

4 [REDACTED]

5 [REDACTED]

6 [REDACTED]

7 *736

8 Child-killer

9 task force

10 [REDACTED]

11 [REDACTED]

12 [REDACTED]

13 > BY JAMES L. SMITH

14 Of The Oakland Press

15 > MONTCALM CO. - Former Michissen State Police Capt. Robert

16 Robertson, who is retiring, says he will be working closely with 17 city task force to help solve the case of a child-killer who 18 is the most hideously brutal of serial killers.

19 Robertson said he expects he will be working closely with 20 the public.

21 "I think you have to be closer to the people when you

22 capture them than the sheriff does," he said. Robertson

23 said he will be working with the city task force to help

24 solve the case of a child-killer who is the most hideously

25 brutal of serial killers.

26 In April, Robertson said he was retiring to his lakeside

27 home to start a rug-weaving business with his wife, Dee,

28 and his three children.

29 Robertson said he was retiring to his lakeside

30 home to start a rug-weaving business with his wife, Dee,

31 and his three children.

32 His methods and theories have made him a sought after 33 expert in the field of serial murders and crimes.

34 [REDACTED]

35 [REDACTED]

36 [REDACTED]

37 department will probably cut into plans to market 300hoven.

38 throw ruse at spring craft shows, he said.

39 "Obviously, we're not going to put as much time into

40 [REDACTED]

41 [REDACTED]

42 [REDACTED]

43 [REDACTED]

44 [REDACTED]

45 [REDACTED]

1
2
3
4
5
6
7
8
9
10
11
12
13
14
15
16
17
18
19 20
21
22
23
24
25
26
27
28
29
30
31
32
33
34
35
36
37
38
39
40
41
42

... school, telephoned his mother, Ruth, from the jail where he had attended school in the evenings of Feb. 15. He said he would walk the short distance home.

no recovery man, all eds
#1480 Oakland Child Killer
#11890 victims in 31/2 years, but fall is still feared
#104
Staff and wire reports

1 It has been more than 3 1/2 years, but fall is still a
2 time of fear in Oakland County.

3 When the first snowfall comes, parents worry the men

4 [REDACTED]
5 [REDACTED]
6 [REDACTED]
7 recently by the killings of 11 black children and the disappearances
8 of four others in Atlanta since July 1979. Some area police 9 officials who worked on the local child-killer case have

10 [REDACTED]
11 [REDACTED]
12 [REDACTED]
13 The Baby-sitter, got his nickname because he took meticulous 14 care of his victims before he killed them. They were well-fed,
15 clean and warmly clothed during their captivity, which lasted

16 [REDACTED]
17 [REDACTED]
18 [REDACTED]
19 [REDACTED]
20 were abandoned along lightly traveled roads, their bodies
21 neatly stretched out in the snow. The boys were sexually 22 molested, the girls were not.

23 [REDACTED]
24 [REDACTED]
25 [REDACTED]
26 [REDACTED]
27 [REDACTED]
28 [REDACTED]
29 [REDACTED]
30 [REDACTED]
31 [REDACTED]
32 [REDACTED]
33 [REDACTED]
34 [REDACTED]
35 [REDACTED]
36 [REDACTED]
37 [REDACTED]
38 [REDACTED]
39 [REDACTED]
40 [REDACTED]
41 [REDACTED]
42 [REDACTED]

Herbert Baker, director of guidance and pupil personnel services for the Birmingham schools. The last of the four victims, Timothy King, 11, attended elementary school in East District.
Sheriff's Sgt. Richard Altimore, 68, has for several years activities) are turned in much more readily now, 77
No one knew it at the time, but when young Mark Stebbins of Ferndale failed to return home from a nearby American Easton Hall. It never occurred to him that the slayer was would not even think of a possibility of his slaying.

Mark Stebbins, 11, was the slain by what police describe as a smooth-talking killer.
Police said the slayer probably was crafty and intelligent.
He left no clues at his crime scenes, said for more than

... making on the case today,

'There really are no new theories. We're operating on the assumption that he's still available, somewhere, Birmingham said.

Robertson, however, has a different view.

'I still support the theory that the killer was taken away from society in one form or another, either by death or institutionalization,' said Robertson. 'I'm convinced they're not going to come back. I don't know how long it will take, but I'm convinced they're not going to come back.

The only certainty is that it will snow again soon. And with the snow, anything can happen.

(Continued on A-6)

(Copyright) The Okland Press, 80

even after the three earlier murders, and all the publicity, the man was able to get Timothy King - bright boy who had been carefully warned - to go with him without a struggle. This man is able to lure a youngster even to the point that he ignores the warnings and safeguards he's been told, said a worried Chirey Robin. We don't have a sneaky dirty man here with a bag of candy.

The police didn't know what they had, or what approach in Chersey took over a recent Birmingham school and attacked the nearly 12,000 tips that poured in from a frightened community. A computer stored the mass of information, community said. Others panned the region's police and the Woodward corridor's schools for recent sex offenses against children. They were stung shed for the murder they found. They never joins, which leads with the FBI report the murdered youngsters took to a psychiatric hospital. The children might have had in common.

They advertised in pornographic magazines, hoping the slayer would answer. They staked out homosexual bars. But most of them used a variety of names and surnames in a maze with dead-ends everywhere, but the officers at Valley Woods School kept their optimism alive.

We'll find him, they said again and again. Some investigators see one but they can't make sense of it. The area code for the past two weeks has been Birmingham 360. The police will take all the calls.

A fast-food chain printed signs on placemats; warnings children not to talk to strangers. Similar warnings were found on milk cartons sold at local supermarkets. Thousands was especially wasteful when Jim venished March 16, 1977.

A sixth-grader at Adams School, Tim borrowed 30 cents from his 17-year-old sister and went to the Hunter-Maple Pharmacy, three blocks from home, to buy some candy. He took his skateboard along.

Tim made it to the pharmacy and bought his candy. He did not make it home again.

Ordinarily, Birmingham police would wait 48 hours before could be assembled.

The force grew to 300 for a time. They checked the boy's relatives, friends, classmates and acquaintances, and began tracking down a network of contacts.
But Tim's mother, Elizabeth, said she had no idea where he was. She said she had called the police and they had searched for him but could not find him.

- was not found.

On the night of March 22, a passing motorist saw his still-warm body in a ditch beside unpeaved Gill Road in Livonia.

The boy was lying on his back, his arms and legs splayed out. His wrists and ankles had been bound. Police said the boy's fingernails and toenails were immaculate. He had recently been washed, they said, and his cloths had been cleaned.

A witness told them he had seen a boy similar to Tim in size and dress talking with a man the night of his disappearance in the parking lot of a supermarket near the drugstore.

The witness said the boy had a white stripe along each side of his shirt. The model year was not known. Thousands of worried people called with tips about men with whitewall tires and a white stripe along each side. The model year was not known.

Thousands of worried people called with tips about men

22
23
24
25
26
27
28
29
30
31
32
33
34
35
37
38
39
40
41 42 incumbent sheriff. Thomas' report in an August 1970s, Godell later called on Robertson to be his undersheriff, Robertson explained.

The paths of the two men crossed at the Detroit state police post commanded by Robertson in the early 1970s, Godell worked in the criminal investigation section at the time, Robertson said.

'Declining with the jail will be a new experience,' Robertson said.

And he doesn't envision spending much time doing day-to-day detective work, but Robertson indicated his years of investigative experience probably won't be wasted.

He visited the outstate sheriff and his command staff last week to prepare for taking over his office with the new year.

'I'm rerins to go,' Robertson said.

*110*sm1906*
WOLF IN SHEEP'S CLOTHING, BY TOMMY MCINTYRE,

WOLFE STATE UNIVERSITY, 1976 and 1977 of Oakland County children.
Yet, McIntyre, who covered the case as a broadcast reporter for WJL, has written a sensitive, comprehensive account of the crime.

McIntyre notes that the child killer, whose name is given as a pseudonym for a man that has since been identified as from retired Michigan State Police Captain Robert H. ROBERTSON, coordinator of the investigation results in the book.

For those who remember those years when a child killer was a common sight on the news, it is a sad and revealing book that will give you a glimpse of life on the McIntyre writes with compassion for families and those law enforcement officers who worked on the case. Sure, it's another book about the Oakland County Child Killer, but Ginn Stolicker of The Oakland Press.

(Copyright, The Oakland Press 89)

100 near ten mile and Southfield Road in Southfield Feb. 19 found his body in the parking lot.

Mark had been sexually abused, but the body was fully clothed. Rope marks were found on the wrists and ankles, but there was no rope on the body. There were small cuts on his head, but no signs of serious injury.

The cause of death was asphyxiation probably by smothering. The Ferndale and Southfield Police had a nasty homicide on their hands

by the end of the year. The case was closed by the Jill Robinson, 12, of Royal Oak, had argued with her mother, Karol, on the evening of Dec. 22. Mrs. Robinson had told her to bake biscuits for dinner. Jill angrily refused, she refused to bake biscuits for dinner. Jill angrily refused, she backed and was arrested.

the morning of Dec. 26, a driver on I-75 north of his Beaver saw something about 12 feet from the roadway. He called the nearby Troy Police Department on his CB radio.

the driver saw a car on the left side of the road. The car was dark and the driver was alone. The driver called the police and the car was found on the left side of the road. The driver was alone.

For reasons that would elude and tantalize investigators, the killeressin that year did not strike in the spring.

summer of 1971, but what the driver saw was a car on the left side of the road. The driver was alone.

magazine at a store near her Berkeley home. Unlike the earlier victims, the Pattensill School fifth-grader was missing nearly three weeks.

the driver saw a car on the left side of the road. The driver was alone. The driver called the police and the car was found on the left side of the road. The driver was alone.

beside Bruce Street in the telegraph-107teen mile area. Like the other victims, Kristine was fully clothed. Like Mark Stebbins, she had been smothered, but not beaten. Her body was found on the left side of the road. The driver was alone. The driver called the police and the car was found on the left side of the road. The driver was alone.

the driver saw a car on the left side of the road. The driver was alone. The driver called the police and the car was found on the left side of the road. The driver was alone.

the driver saw a car on the left side of the road. The driver was alone. The driver called the police and the car was found on the left side of the road. The driver was alone.

the driver saw a car on the left side of the road. The driver was alone. The driver called the police and the car was found on the left side of the road. The driver was alone.

> interview him..they made a lot of trips..there were 300 plus coincidences..as > they called them..he even took two polyrraphs. ..and each > officer had there own idea of who they hoped it would be ...but just to give you
> and idea of how they operate..they recently dug up david norgburgs body..his dna
> didn't match..but yet the hair i gave them in 91 from the killer they did'nt even > have ck...most of the original task force..made absolute fools of there self..and
> now they are afaired of doing it again..
> > Yahoo! Groups Sponsor
> >
> > Click here for Classmates.com
> >
> >
> > "Justice Delayed Is Still justice"
> > <http://coldcases.cjb.net>
> >
> > Other recomended lists:
> >
> > InvestigateMystery@onelist.com
> > (Unsolved Mysterys/Adoption Search Resources)
> >
> > forensicpsych@onelist.com
> > (Forensic Psychology)
> >
> > shadowtrackers@onelist.com
> > (For Professional Investigators)

> > Your use of Yahoo! Groups is subject to the Yahoo! Terms of Service.
>
>
> Yahoo! Groups Sponsor
>
> Click here for Classmates.com
>
>
> "Justice Delayed Is Still justice"
> <http://coldcases.cjb.net>
>
> Other recomended lists:
>
> InvestigateMystery@onelist.com
> (Unsolved Mysterys/Adoption Search Resources)
>
> forensicpsych@onelist.com
> (Forensic Psychology)
>
> shadowtrackers@onelist.com
> (For Professional Investigators)
>
> Your use of Yahoo! Groups is subject to the Yahoo! Terms of Service.

From: Margret Dagner
To: coldcases@yahoogroups.com
Date: 2/25/01 3:26pm
Subject: Re: [coldcases] Re: oakland county child killer 1976-77 michigan

one of the mothers of the victim has passed away...but the killer is very much a live..and there are still a few officers working on the case..you have to understand about police officers...with the age of this case...they have to have all there ducks in a row..i know this as i was married to one for 30 years...and my daughter is a det. and her husband a police officer....helen TK Smith wrote:

>
> How awful for the families of these victims! The police are in a wonderful > position since the alleged killer is now deceased! They don't really HAVE to > continue to work the case since there's no one left to prosecute. Kinda reminds > me of another case involving a child's death that has been so well publicized in > our media. The police dropped the ball from the beginning and if they ever > actually get an indictment of one of the "suspects", the probability of actually > convicting is small!

>
> Tricia
> ----- Original Message -----
> From:
> To: coldcases@yahoogroups.com
> Sent: Sunday, February 25, 2001 12:55 PM
> Subject: [coldcases] Re: oakland county child killer 1976-77 michigan

>
>
> --- In coldcases@y..., "TK Smith" <tricial0@p...> wrote:
> > You read my mind, Nancy Has there been any effort to bring this killer
to > justice at all?! If not, why would the county officials ignore this > information?

> >
> > Tricia
> > ----- Original Message -----
> > From:
> > To: coldcases@y...
> > Sent: Sunday, February 25, 2001 12:09 PM
> > Subject: Re: [coldcases] oakland county child killer 1976-77 michigan

> >
> > How can these murders remain unsolved if you are aware of the killer?
Were
> > they not able to convict this monster????????????????????

> >
> > Nancy Mae
> > hi thanks for the question..they just didn't want to believe that the oakland > county child killer, would just be up in alpena mi.and they did come up and

BLK 00945

>

----- Yahoo! Groups Sponsor ----->
eGroups is now Yahoo! Groups
Click here for more details
<http://us.click.yahoo.com/kWP7PD/pYNCAA/4ihDAA/djNVlB/TM>
----->

"Justice Delayed Is Still justice"
<http://coldcases.cjb.net>

Other recomended lists:

InvestigateMystery@onelist.com
(Unsolved Mysterys/Adoption Search Resources)

forensicpsych@onelist.com
(Forensic Psychology)

shadowtrackers@onelist.com
(For Professional Investigators)

Your use of Yahoo! Groups is subject to <http://docs.yahoo.com/info/terms/> > interview him..they made a lot of trips..there were 300 plus coincidences..as

> they called them..he even took two polyrraphs.. ..and each > officer had there own idea of who they hoped it would be ...but just to give you
> and idea of how they operate..they recently dug up david norgburgs
body..his dna
> didn't match..but yet the hair i gave them in 91 from the killer they did'nt even > have ck...most of the original task force..made absolute fools of there self..and
> now they are afraid of doing it again..
> > Yahoo! Groups Sponsor
> >
> > Click here for Classmates.com
> >
> >
> > "Justice Delayed Is Still justice"
> > <http://coldcases.cjb.net>
> >
> > Other recomended lists:
> >
> > InvestigateMystery@onelist.com
> > (Unsolved Mysterys/Adoption Search Resources)
> >
> > forensicpsych@onelist.com
> > (Forensic Psychology)
> >
> > shadowtrackers@onelist.com
> > (For Professional Investigators)

> >
> > Your use of Yahoo! Groups is subject to the Yahoo! Terms of Service.
>
>
> Yahoo! Groups Sponsor
>
> Click here for Classmates.com
>
>
> "Justice Delayed Is Still justice"
> <http://coldcases.cjb.net>
>
> Other recomended lists:
>
> InvestigateMystery@onelist.com
> (Unsolved Mysterys/Adoption Search Resources)
>
> forensicpsych@onelist.com
> (Forensic Psychology)
>
> shadowtrackers@onelist.com
> (For Professional Investigators)
>
> Your use of Yahoo! Groups is subject to the Yahoo! Terms of Service.