

on the same page."

But the Kings say they've waited long enough.

"Those four little kids deserve far better than what they have gotten from the MSP," says Timmy's only sister, Cathy Broad, 50, of Naperville, Ill. "Their actions are either gross incompetence or very dirty dealings or both. Neither answer is very reassuring."

A name under wraps

No one could have predicted the course of events that unearthed this latest break in the case. In part, that's because it didn't come from dogged detective work but from an ex-neighbor who'd grown up across the street from the King family. The neighbor's information was relayed to Chris King in the summer of 2006. Later that same year, the Wayne County prosecutor's office filed an investigative subpoena compelling a polygraph examiner to testify before Wayne County Circuit Judge Timothy Kenny about the Timmy King killing.

By November 2007, polygrapher Lawrence Wasser was ordered under oath to produce a name. The transcripts are sealed, but the Kings say they were told by Cory Williams, a now-retired Livonia Police detective who was investigating the case, that Wasser revealed the name Chris Busch as a suspect in the King slaying.

Busch's name had been circulating for years on Internet blogs and among those familiar with the notorious unsolved child murder cases and the nationwide child pornography rings of the 1970s.

Still, the discovery was numbing: Christopher Brian Busch was the son of Harold Lee Busch, executive financial director for General Motors, and Elsie Busch, both now deceased. The family lived in the Bloomfield Village neighborhood of Bloomfield Township from 1970-79. Bloomfield Township Police records show Busch committed suicide in the home on Nov. 20, 1978, a year after the child killings stopped. His body was cremated two days later.

Six months later, the house was sold.

"My family and I think Chris Busch killed Tim," says Barry King.

"Conventional wisdom at the time dictated it was much easier to think there is some type of evil person who lives far away," says Chris King. "It's almost inconceivable to think somebody from the village could do this. But what's really heartbreaking is that Busch was arrested, charged and should have been in jail many times over."

A family torn apart

On March 16, 1977, Timmy, a straight-A student in sixth grade at Adams Elementary, left his home on Yorkshire Drive in Birmingham at 8:15 p.m. with his skateboard. Timmy was the youngest of Barry and Marion King's children, brother to Cathy, Chris and Mark. He borrowed 30 cents from his sister and left home to buy candy at Hunter-Maple Pharmacy in a shopping center that borders Woodward Avenue and Maple Road.

Chris King was 16 at the time. When he came home from baby-sitting that night, there were police cars in the driveway and in front of his house. His parents returned home from dinner to discover Timmy missing. They had dined at Peabody's Restaurant, less than 500 feet from where Timmy was last seen.

Chris drove with his mother to search for his brother at a friend's house. "The house was dark, pitch black," he remembers. "I said, 'Mom, I'll just go and knock on the door anyway.' And she said, 'No, he's not there.'"

And then she started crying. And I knew she was right." From that moment on, he says, "It was horrible because you knew what was going on. The clock was ticking."

Six days later, Timmy's still warm, fully clothed body was found beside Gill Road near Eight Mile in Livonia. He had been suffocated. An autopsy revealed signs of sexual abuse and there were marks around his wrists and ankles suggesting he had been tied. His body was strikingly clean, as were his clothes.

The bodies of three other victims also were cleaned and scrubbed, according to the medical examiner. Mark Stebbins, 12, of Ferndale was found Feb. 19, 1976, in a parking lot at 10 Mile and Greenfield in Southfield after he had been missing for four days. The body of Jill Robinson, 12, of Royal Oak, missing for three days, was found several feet from I-75 north of Big Beaver. Missing the longest, 18 days, was Kristine Mihelich, 10. Her body was found by a mailman in a ditch on Bruce Lane near 13 Mile and Telegraph in Franklin Village.

All the victims were found wearing the clothes they were last seen in. Their clothing was spotless. All had been suffocated. Jill Robinson was smothered and then shot in the face when, police think, the killer panicked, thinking she was still alive.

The rash of killings paralyzed the community and became national news. For months, Metro Detroit children were rarely allowed to play outside unsupervised. Parents religiously escorted children to the bus stop. Anyone and everyone was suspect: from the clergy to neighbors to baby sitters.

At its peak, in the spring of 1977, the Oakland County Child Killer Task Force employed 200 detectives from 50 communities in the tri-counties. Back then, it was the most extensive murder investigation in U.S. history. Rewards totaling $200,000 for information leading to the killer's apprehension had been raised.

By December 1978, the task force had disbanded. After close to 5,000 interviews, 99,000 names and nearly 18,000 tips, no one had been arrested. In later years, investigators fielded sporadic tips. In 1999, the body of a former Warren man, David Norberg of Wyoming, was exhumed after a cross found among his possessions was thought to belong to Kristine Mihelich. But his DNA failed to match the genetic material in a hair found on one of the suffocated children.

In September 2004, Timmy's mother died.

In 2005, Michigan State Police Detective Sergeant Garry Gray announced they were going to reanalyze evidence and leads in the case, using more advanced computer databases and forensic techniques.

The effort did uncover decades-old sex-crime cases, but they were not connected to the killings in Oakland County.

A chance occurrence

The case took an unexpected twist in July 2006, when Chris King got a call from a childhood friend whom he hadn't seen in more than 30 years. Patrick Coffey, now 49, of San Francisco had been a neighbor and playmate of the King boys.

Now a polygraph examiner, Coffey says when Tim went missing it profoundly affected his life. "Much of the reason that I went into this profession was because of what happened to Tim," he said.

That summer, Coffey gave a presentation to the board of directors of the American Polygraph Association yearly training conference in Las Vegas. Larry Wasser, a former APA vice president and former president of the Michigan Association of Polygraph Examiners, asked if Coffey would be interested in giving the same presentation in Detroit.

Coffey replied that he grew up in Birmingham and said his career ambition was borne out of the tragedy of a neighbor. "Maybe you have heard of the case: the Timmy King case?" he inquired of Wasser.

He said Wasser's jaw dropped. Then he said: "Well, I guess I can tell you this now because the attorney who represented the guy is dead. And the guy who did it is dead. I tested the guy who killed your neighbor boy." "

Coffey says Wasser told him it was a private polygraph in a case unrelated to the Oakland County child killings.

Coffey says he was shocked by the revelation.

Michigan law makes it a misdemeanor for polygraph examiners to divulge any information learned as a result of their duties, unless compelled by law. Later that night, Coffey was able to track down Chris King, who was on a business trip. Six months later, Thanksgiving week 2007, responding to an investigative subpoena filed by Wayne County Prosecutor Rob Moran, Coffey took the stand and Wasser was ordered by the court to produce the name of the suspected killer.

In the courtroom, Coffey says he remembers meeting Gray, the State Police sergeant who had announced plans to revisit the case in 2005. After shaking hands, Coffey says Gray remarked to him, "You know, we had a state task force on this for 30 some years and I can't believe a neighbor boy solved it." Gray refused to comment for this story.

Reached by phone in his Southfield office, Larry Wasser denied having any involvement in the case. "Pat Coffey's information is totally bogus," he said. "I never tested anybody that was involved in the Oakland County child killings."

Coffey says he was not surprised by Wasser's denial. "I know he regrets our conversation," Coffey says.

In retrospect, Coffey adds: "When you think about the odds of this happening, it's stunning. The Chris Busch lead would have died with Larry Wasser."

North Fox Island porn ring

According to his death certificate, Busch, 27, died from a self-inflicted gunshot to the head on Nov. 20, 1978.

He was employed as a food service manager at Franklin Club Apartments. It is believed that Busch was sent away to a boarding school in Switzerland. As a high-ranking GM executive, Busch's father, accompanied by his wife, traveled extensively throughout Europe for long periods. Former neighbors confirm the parents were rarely at the home on Morningview.

In a series of articles published by the Traverse City Record-Eagle in February and March 1977, Busch was linked to a child pornography ring in Leelanau County's North Fox Island near Traverse City.

On Fox Island, the so-called Brother Paul's Children's Mission was a front for an underground pornography network where children were coerced into sexual acts and then photographed for use in porn magazines. After conducting a four-month investigation, the Record-Eagle broke the story of the porn ring. One of the stories states: "Police confiscated eight rolls of film from Christopher Busch, 25, of Birmingham."

Busch also was arrested and charged on multiple charges of criminal sexual conduct in late February 1977 in Flint. Police alleged as many as 30 prepubescent boys from Flint were forced to commit sex acts with men; with each other and before cameras.

While in Flint, then-Oakland County Prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson sent investigators to interview Busch and an alleged accomplice, suggesting that some of the victimized boys had been procured in Oakland County. The accomplice, Gregory Green, 26, was charged with Busch. Previously, Green had served time in Orange County, Calif., for a sex offense involving a boy and was subsequently released to a psychiatric hospital.

The men were given lie detector tests and Oakland County investigators concluded Busch and Green were "not suspects in the Stebbins case."

While Green was held in the Genesee County jail in lieu of $75,000 bond, Busch went free on $1,000 cash bond. Records on the outcome of the case were not available. Three weeks after Busch walked, Timmy King was abducted.

Being told the truth

Two years ago, the King family filed a Freedom of Information Act request with the Bloomfield Township Police for a copy of the police report of Chris Busch's suicide. They were told the file had been destroyed.

But Jack Kalbfleish, a former Birmingham police detective assigned to the task force during the child killings, says he remembers when the suicide report came into his office.

"I was working with field officers at the time, and I remembered a suicide that came in the area of Maple and Lahser," Kalbfleish said. "The significant detail found at the scene was a drawing of a kid that looked very much like Mark Stebbins."

The Kings fault the police for missing another opportunity to investigate Busch.

On Oct. 30 last year, law enforcement officials in Oakland County executed a search warrant for the former Busch residence on Morningview Terrace Drive. The heating and cooling ducts in the forced air system were vacuumed in an effort to dislodge possible evidence such as hairs or fibers.

"We've had this name since the fall of '07," says Chris King. "They didn't even start to gather evidence until a year later: the fall of '08. And now they won't tell us what tests are done, what tests are not done or when those tests might be done. That's all we've asked for. We just want the truth to come out."

OAKLAND COUNTY CHILD KILLER INVESTIGATION

JOURNAL:

D/Sgt. Gray

Met with Detective Cory Williams Livonia Police department at Metro North post this date. Williams supplied two binders containing the complete lead into the Christopher Busch and Gregory Greene which has been updated to July of 08.

INFORMATION:

On July 3, 2008, the undersigned authored an E-Mail to Helen Dagner at _____ advising her that her suspect, _____ has been investigated further regarding recent DNA results. (See OCCK case file, 21-1854-05, supplemental report "B" 11.)

In the e-mail which was sent on July 3rd, Ms. Dagner was advised that the results of the DNA which was sent in on _____ and four other possible suspects, came back negative. No matching results. See attached FBI Laboratory Report of Examination by Dr. Constance Fisher.

The following e-mail was sent to the undersigned approximately 45 minutes later.

E-Mail, verbatim:

Thank you so much for that info...but I know _____ was involved in these cases!...Just a few weeks ago...as I went thru my notes...I found something very interesting... and have been working day and night... on follow up...it may be crazy...but I had a note in my files...that said nothing more than...a discussion _____ and I had about my Husbands Suicide.... We were talking about the day Wally killed himself & the date-Nov. 20th 1983...and _____ said...that is strange-I knew someone who killed himself the same day 5 years earlier...I thought it important enough...to red flag it. But then back in the 90s....I never got to it...and after _____ and I weren't getting along so good...so I put all that stuff in loose papers...but like everything else _____ has ever said to me...I know there had to be a reason...that anyone would remember the date of some ones suicide...I know lots of people who have killed them self...and they were people I knew very well...and I couldn't tell you there exact date...So like I said-I am putting this together... Maybe _____ did tell me someone elses story...but I

SUMMATION:

After reading Ms. Dagners reply, there appears to be either a factual or coincidental connection between her suspect, : and Christopher Busch. If what Ms. Dagner is purporting in her response to the undersigned's e-mail advising the DNA was not a match, she is now connecting : to Christopher Busch. She stated that while she was talking to . back in the early 1990's about her late husband, (Wally Dagners), death from suicide, and telling . that her husband committed suicide on November 20, 1983, replied with a very strange answer. Dagner stated after telling of Wally's suicide date, he replied that was strange because he knew an individual who also committed suicide the very same day, however five years earlier in 1978. She stated that guy who shares Wally's death date was Chris Busch who used to live very close to where . in Oakland County.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

Shortly after receiving Ms. Dagners reply, (see above), the undersigned logged onto her web-site to see if any new information could be gleaned regarding the case. On Helen Dagner.com, dated July 4, 2008 at 1:21PM a message was received on her web-site that was titled: "Your new Investigation presents a lot of scenarios".

In this post, there were very many connections to "OUR" current investigation concerning the Christopher Busch lead. (At this time it is unknown how Ms. Dagner is receiving the information regarding the current Christopher Busch lead).

There were references to;

1. The wealth of the Busch family.
2. The close proximity of where the Busches and the _____s lived from each other.
3. Busch and _____s respective ages being similar, (two years apart).
4. Mutual pedophilic tendencies?
5. Facial hair and Chris Busch.
6. Not being a blue Gremlin, 1977 MSP REPORT prior to Timmy's abduction.
7. Parents are gone in Europe
8. I'm also curious about "THE DOG HAIR"

From reading Helen Dagner's web-site, it appears, (however unsubstantiated), that she is possibly speaking with someone closely connected with this investigation.

CONTACT WITH DON STUDD: BIRMINGHAM POLICE DEPARTMENT:

On 7-8-08, the undersigned contacted Don Studd of the Birmingham police department to ascertain or possibly verify possible information about the suggested connection with _____, and Christopher Busch. Studd stated that he has never heard of the connection with _____s and Busch until the call this very morning. Don Emphatically stated that he's never heard of Christopher Busch while adding that this name is not in any of the supplied investigation he gave this officer regarding the John Hastings investigation into the Oakland County Child Killings.

Your new Investigation presents a lot of scenarios. This guy's house is no more than 4 blocks from John's and that doesn't account for cutting through yard short cuts. That is too close to be a coincidence. John and this guy are the same age, same going nowhere life and same damn neighborhood. If this guy is as sick as everyone says, John seems to be the more successful of the two - yet his family is nowhere near as affluent nor do they show him the kind of support that this other guy's parents do. Could that have been part of John's anger against society? Could this have been the friend that drove the cars John was jealous of? Finally, could John have pedophilic tendencies? Enough to have connected these two in that way? I ask because recently we found out that a guy that hung around my Xxxxxx group of friends in HS was arrested for child porn. Would I have ever guessed that about him? No way. He was just a bit odd, but I wouldn't have put him in that category. It afflicts the most unassuming people.

If the DNA is a match, then I'd say it's a done deal. And I'd insist that John was closely connected to this guy. I would like to bring up an interesting scenario with Xxxx: Could they have used him as a lure? Could he have been used himself for pedo sex? Look at the guy-- he got the hell out of Michigan as soon as he could. He was "pretty." And he has spent the rest of his life trying to be anyone other than the person he was in Michigan. He suffers from a disease that is born out of stress. He became born again -- looking for salvation after a hideous past?

Another reason I think John was connected is Xxxxx experience. She never ever said the man she ran into had facial hair and I am sure she would have mentioned that. She also said it was not a blue Gremlin, but a light colored 4 door circling the block. And you have the call list. I wonder if this guy's name is on tht list????

Here is another scenario. Perhaps John abducted these kids. What if he kept them at this guy's house ( after all, the parents are gone in Europe) and offered them for sex in exchange for the hiding place. What if John was bringing them as "gifts" to this guy like buying a friend? I agree that the cleansing and placing of the kids doesn't fit with a pedophile, Again, if the DNA is a match, then the answer is there. I am also curious about the dog hair. Did this guy have a dog? What kind? I wonder if that Xxxxx would remember. Did John have a dog? What kind? When John was removed from the family home, could he have stayed with this guy?

I know it seems like lots of speculation, it is. Fred

THIS IS ONE OF ABOUT 50 POSTS THAT TERRI'S POSTING AS CODY ON SEVERAL DIFFERANT FORUMS AT TOPIX-AND THE VICTIMS FAMILIES OUR CONTACTING ME-ASKING IF THE POLICE ARE REALLY TALKING TO HER-AS SHE POSTS THAT SHE IS GETTING THE INFO FROM THE TWO OF YOU AND CORY-THIS B-IS CUT FROM THE SAME CLOTH AS

"That's just it Cyber, there is no Oakland County child killer. There is no one person driving around in a Gremlin.

Kim King wasn't a victim.....Jill Robinson wasn't one either, not of the occk.

The police know who killed Kim. Jill was killed by a couple - male/female.

Looks like Ted did kill Tim. No one knows who killed Mark, yet.

Mark was the first official victim, only after Jill and Kris were killed. They seemed connected, of course, very.....much alike.

Kristine MAY have been killed by the same person as Tim....

The police aren't going to make an announcement.

Kim's case isn't related to Jill's. Not related to Donna Serra's case either. Cindy Z.'s is solved, again, not related. Jill's isn't an occk victim anymore.

So, the great Gary didn't kill the four occk kids, Kim King, Cindy Z., or JonBenet.

Kim hasn't been found, but police know who and how.....not enough evidence to bring to trial.

But, the four occk kids, as they are known by, were ALL tied up, raped, and killed.

The crap about the girls not being raped and the boys hurt after death is just that, crap.

It's sad. All of it.

Kim's killer is free, so is the woman who helped kill Jill.

You of all people should know me by now Cyber. I'm not telling empty tales." Terri {Cody}

You probably also received the e-mail from Dagner regarding TERRI and the OCCK. I know you said you'll never talk to her again, (Please don't). I think this her way of her stirring the pot to get a knee jerk reaction from one of us. I've seen these types of posts in the past from her all too often. ....Another reason why I've stopped reading her sites long ago.

Thanks

I need a News Media Investigative Reporter to contact me...NOW!...Other wise The Occk cases are going to go the way of the "Black Dahlia"...and the Zodiac cases-I realize I turned down many offers from the News Media over the years..who offered to Investigate these cases for me...up to now I have resisted,However,The Occk Task Force has so badly mis-managed these cases - that I now finally feel compelled to take action-I'm NOT going to let these four childrens murders become another faded unsolved case...were a conveniently Dead guy is blamed for them...so the cops can proudly pat themselves on the back and proclaim the Occk case is solved and closed..The fact is they once again have fingered the wrong "Dirt Bag"!!!

That post just flipped out...so I will have to make this a briefer version-Gory called me the Sunday before He and Det.Sgt. Gray flew out to GA-The first thing he said was I will Deny I ever made this call to you...If you tell anyone...But then he had guts enough to ask me for something...I told him I didn't have the silver bullet that he wanted...So then he tells me that Monday at noon he would be sitting across the table from John...and Tuesday he would be taking a polygraph... Well it has been 30 days now and....John has not been polygraphed yet, but that is still in the works. For reasons that will become obvious they HAVE TO GET TO JOHN ASAP, or --the window will close forever (except if some investigative journalist pushes it and makes it public)....That is all I want to tell you about this now...But your going to just love this part of the story...

Helen,

Another thought ~~do~~ the police have that drawing over the Mark Stebbins look alike ~~is something~~? I wonder if John drew that picture - we know he loved art!

~~Also in the past~~ Wasn't John an avid boy scout who could do those type of things? Inquiring minds want to know! Dean..... Well Dean, glad to see your still with us... Yes, John had three similar drawings on the wall of ... that lock bedroom door at his parents home ... so could their of been four and one left at the dirt bags home... when he supposedly killed himself... sure... But it has been my experience... with these type of drawings... and these type of trouble individuals... they draw self-portraits... and they always have a scream look to them... as for John and the boy scout stuff... I either can no longer remember... or never had any knowledge of it... Norberg is the one that was handy with the knot tying... John is the one that had all the nylon stockings all different sizes & colors... That he watched over them like they were stocks and bonds... Back to that drawing at the dirt bags... If he was going to set up a scene... why would he put a drawing out... He was a big time ~~of the police~~ ~~photo~~ ~~member~~ ~~for~~ ~~the~~ ~~Bill~~ ~~in~~ ~~the~~ ~~area~~ ~~of~~ ~~the~~ ~~San~~ ~~Diego~~ ~~area~~... and no matter how many times he was arrested and film was confiscated... there was never a photo of an Oakland County Victim....
