Sir:

I have a strong suspicion as to why Jill Robinson is missing. My suspicion is to follows. Since there is an evil, behavioral modification technique involving scientific forces that is inadequately controlled and since it causes pain-conditioning stimuli to one's body, other physiological sensations to one's body, physiological sensations, and impressions through alterations of phenomena external to one's body and acts as vehicles for the acquiring and having of ESP, I believe that Jill's missing is the cause of a criminal act being perpetrated by someone or some people who have ESP over me to cause to something related to information they have about me that they have gained through their ESP over me. Jill stealing to something related to information she has about me that she has gained through her ESP over me and whatever of Jill may likely be eluding to regarding me in the matter of Jill being missing is as follows. I arrived in Ann Arbor Tuesday, the 21st of December in the afternoon. About 6 days before that I wrote a letter to the Ann Arbor Police Dept. telling them about the uncanny relationships I felt existed between my comings and goings and experiences regarding the rapes, robberies & burglaries that occurred from Oct to [illegible] -time period I was not in Ann Arbor. My theories was basically the same as my theories in that letter this letter. [illegible] I wrote that letter while I stayed in the Oak Motel — one of the Royal Oak Motels in which I resided from the 6th of Dec. to the about mid-night of the 14th except for one night, I estimate, when I went to my parents' place of residence to get some money, although residing in the side complex of a relatives guest & home-like-then place to stay. I stayed at my parents' from about 12:30 pm of the 14th to the morning of the 21st, and was about to leave by my father on the 21st, we did so, and decided after failure to get a home in the greater metro Det. area by the 15th though

I am truly sorry that Jill is missing and that she might be harmed. My [illegible] in matters of criminality that are related to her missing [illegible] through the evil, behavioral modification technique involving scientific forces that enables others to read my mind and thereby accordingly acts [illegible] for the purpose of giving [illegible] lots of people, thereby one means or another, a tendency to imagine certain things in regards to my activity to seem not to be productive in stopping crime but giving crime a boost. Never the less, I feel that I am doing the right thing by trying to bring out in the open, more or less, what I feel are the motives involved in lots of crimes that occur these days.

If the [illegible] person who has taken Jill [illegible] is caught, please see to it that my position regarding his or her motive is attempted to be drawn out of the criminal. If it is substantiated, it would make it easier for the judge to make the punishment suit the crime. Also, it would be an aid in the crime.

08 talked to one. He talked to several girls on the 24th. MATHESON was not

09 at work, and his phone number was furnished.

10 Det. Stinson called MATHESON, who stated that he could not recall talking

11 to anyone at this time, but that he would contact this department if he should

12 recall anything. MATHESON worked from 1:00 PM until 8:00 PM with RICHARDSON.

13 Also talked to NICK BOKELS, who worked from 6:00 AM until 1:00 PM. He MISCHA then stated that she actually played with the ROBINSON children as a group, rather than with JILL exclusively. MISCHA stated that occasionally JILL and her mother would argue over chores, and that JILL would stalk off. JILL'S father did not live there with them, but visited occasionally.

MISCHA then stated that JILL played more with a JENNY RICHMOND, and her brother and sister. The RICHMONDS have moved to TX 863-6800, fathers' name, HAROLD.

MISCHA stated that he had not seen or heard from JILL ROBINSON since the family moved in late July 76. MISCHA stated, also, that one time, JILL and her mother argued, and JILL threatened to run away, but did not actually take off.

1:15 PM, Det. MEITZNER called Mr. HAROLD RICHMOND requesting permission to talk to the RICHMOND children. At this time, VAN MARSHALL, WXYZ-TV, Channel 7, and a camera crew were on the scene. Mr. RICHMOND refused to allow TV interview or pictures, but stated that the ROPD could interview his family. Mr. MARSHALL agreed to forego any contact with the RICHMOND family.

As the RICHMOND children were not at home, an appointment was made to recontact them in one and a half hours.

18 Detroit, and talked with Mr. HAROLD RICHMOND. His daughter was not home

19 yet. Mr. RICHMOND stated that JILL ROBINSON was a quiet girl, a loner, who

20 stayed to herself. He had not seen or heard from JILL since moving, other than

21 on one occasion when they all got tohether at the old neighborhood. No contact

22 since 12-22-76. He had called friends in the old neighborhood, concerning 23 information about JILL but had nothing to offer.

Body found in Franklin; Cause of death a puzzle

By JOE MARTUCCI

The frozen, snow-covered body of 10-year-old Kristine Mihelich of Berkley was found Friday in a roadside field in Franklin.

Cause of death couldn't be determined at an autopsy, performed Saturday afternoon, so further tests will be made.

The body showed no external signs of violence, said a spokesman for the Oakland County Medical Examiners office.

An expert from Toronto, who claims he can lift fingerprints from a body, examined Kristine's body Saturday prior to the autopsy.

Oakland County Prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson announced Saturday the formation of a special 25-member investigative task force to probe Kristine's death. The discovery was made about noon by Franklin mailman Jerry Wozny as he was driving along Bruce Lane toward Thirteen Mile in the southeastern part of the village, about one mile west of Telegraph.

Police officers from many agencies descended on the scene. Some speculated that the fully-clothed body, which was lying a few feet from the road in a shallow ditch, had been dumped last week.

Franklin Police Chief Frank Wilson, who was first at the scene, however, said the body may have been there for some time, since it was difficult to determine if snow had fallen on the body or had been scooped there by hand.

Wozny, 35, of Walled Lake, said a hand sticking out of the snow attracted his attention.

"It scared the hell out of me," the father of two young boys admitted.

The girl was wearing blue-stripped overalls and a blue hooded jacket, police reported. The clothing description matches what Kristine was said to be wearing when last seen. Authorities said the girl's stepfather, Thomas Adcroft, identified her body Friday night.

POLICE SAID there was no evidence of a struggle or that the girl had been shot, knifed or strangled.

"The body is in pretty good shape, and there are no obvious markings," said Sgt. Dave Piche of the Berkley police.

Technicians from the Oakland County and State Police crime labs examined the scene. The investigation will be coordinated by Sgt. Jospeh Krease of the state police, with local departments and the sheriff's department joining in.

Police departments represented Friday included Franklin, Birmingham, Troy, Ferndale, Bloomfield Township, Beverly Hills, Berkley, Southfield, the state police and the sheriff's department.

Oakland County Sheriff Johannes Spreen ordered helicopters to photograph the area before the body was taken to the medical examiner's office.

Police, who theorized the body was dumped last week, noted that Bruce Lane was last plowed Monday and footprints leading to the body were made in plowed snow.

Wozny, who has delivered mail in the area for eight years, said he saw only one set of footprints near the body. The tracks were slightly covered with fresh snow, he added.

IT APPEARED, the mailman said, that whoever dumped the body had covered it with snow. Left exposed were one hand and the girl's knees.

Wozny said he makes a habit of looking into roadside ditches and probably would have seen the body had it been there earlier in the week.

Friday's discovery makes four girls and one boy from southeastern Oakland County who have been killed in the last 13 months.

About a year ago, on Jan. 16, the nude body of Cynthia Chilton, 16, of Roseville, was found on Franklin Road in Bloomfield Township.

Three days later, 14-year-old Sheila Srock was found shot to death in Birmingham. She had been babysitting for her neice.

One month after that, the body of Mark Stebbins, 12, of Ferndale, was found near a Southfield shopping center. He had been sexually assaulted and strangled.

Jane Allen of Royal Oak disappeared while hitchhiking from Pontiac Township Aug. 27. Her body was found in Ohio four days later.

On Dec. 26, Jill Robinson, also of Royal Oak, was found shotgunned to death along I-75 near Big Beaver in Troy.

The cases—all unsolved—bear similarities, and police departments have been coordinating efforts to arrest a suspect. More meetings will likely now be held, said police sources.

THE BODIES of Stebbins, Miss Cadiex, Miss Robinson and Miss Mihelich were all dumped by a roadside.

One police source at the Franklin scene said there were similarities with the way Stebbins' and Miss Mihelich's bodies were placed.

Police said there was no evidence at the scene except the body.

Franklin Council President Verne Converse ordered all auxiliary police officers to report for immeidate duty Friday.

Bruce Lane is a dead-end street with only five homes.

Harold Schreiber, who moved to 30000 Bruce Lane just a month ago, said Friday's incident "almost makes me ready to cancel the deal."

One young woman said her mother, who lives on Bruce Lane, "went into shock," when she heard of the discovery.

Mrs. Dolores Schlesinger of Hickory Lane said, "I'm driving my son to school every day. I don't want him out here waiting for the bus.

"Kids just aren't safe anymore."

Thru the Neighborhood . . .

Shock . . . Horror . . . Fear

by J. JESSE SNYDER
Tribune Staff Reporter

The discovery of Kristine Mihelich's body Friday produced similar reactions among neighbors and volunteers who had collected reward funds for the 10-year-old Berkley girl.

Horror.

An end to faint hopes for her safety.

Relief that the awful wait was over for her family.

And fear for their own children.

"A lot of neighbors have been calling around since the news broke," said Mrs. Patricia A. Tyler, mother of three and member of the PTA at Pattengill, where Kristine was a pupil before she disappeared Jan. 2. "I think we all have mixed emotions. We all feel really bad for Kris' mother. This waiting period must have been terrible for her.

Mailman To Receive $2,500 Reward

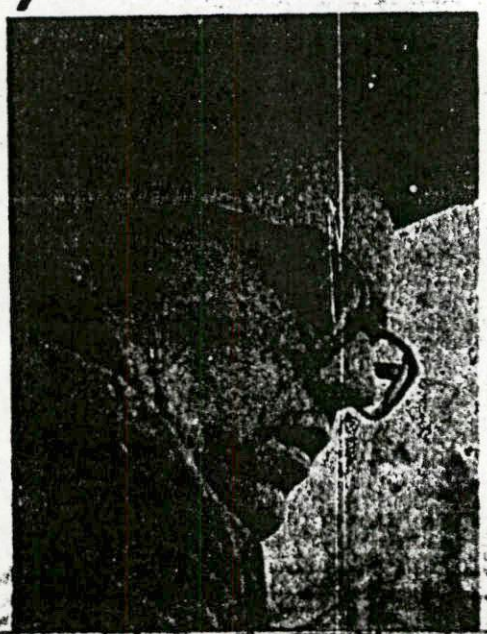
'Something in the Snow' Was Body of Little Girl

A letter carrier who discovered the body of Kristine Mihelich while on his rounds in Franklin Village Friday apparently will receive $2,500 from a reward fund raised by the Berkley Jaycee Auxiliary.

Jerome L. Wozny is eligible for the reward under the guidelines set up by the Auxiliary, said President Sharon Till. She said she would contact Wozny today to work out details. Another $13,400 remains for information leading to the arrest and conviction of whoever killed Kristine.

Wozny, told of the reward Friday night, said he was unaware of it and had not been looking for the missing girl.

He will accept it, he said.



Saddening Discovery—

"I was just glad to find her — too bad she had to be dead," he said. "I don't think I would feel as bad if it had been an adult rather than a little girl."

Wozny said he was driving his mail truck north on Bruce

What If—

"And yet, in a curious way, it's almost a relief that the waiting is over. I just pray Kris wasn't in a fearful situation for a long time. That's just too horrible to consider."

"We're horrified and a little afraid for our own children," said Mrs. Jane Thomas, Pattengill PTA president. "I think the whole community has a great deal of sympathy and pity for the family.

"We're all thinking, 'My God. It could be my kid.' It's a terrible thought that our kids are so vulnerable."

Hope Against Hope—

For Mrs. Dottie DeQuin, a neighbor and childhood friend of Kristine's mother, Mrs. Deborah Ascroft, 3531 Gardner, the death was a shattering blow. She had hoped to find the girl alive.

Mrs. DeQuin had originally approached the Berkley Jaycee Auxiliary for help in raising reward money in the case.

"All that money isn't going to do a bit of good now, is it?" she sobbed Friday afternoon, tears streaming down her face and clenched fists shaking. "I hoped the reward would make whoever did it too afraid to kill her ... would keep her alive.

"I only hope he stopped up

FBI Offers Help in Murder Probe

... have prints on the plates," Hinds said.

Information Control—

As the task force investigation continues, its members have asked Patterson to control release of information about the case.

A detective on the task force said its members made the decision to "keep officers off the phones and get them working on the case."

Patterson said "too much information is getting out" which might hinder the investigation.

"I would also rather handle it this way than on a piecemeal basis. I won't talk about any evidence or leads we get in the case."

Later This Week—

Patterson however said he will release information possibly by the end of the week on autopsy results.

Cooper said an FBI agent will act as "a liaison agent and will be available to help."

Others—

In addition to the FBI, the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, and Detroit police are active in the investigation along with Patterson's office and South Oakland police departments.

to the task force. Kristine's body was discovered shortly after noon Friday on Bruce Lane, 300 feet south of Thirteen-Mile and one-quarter-mile west of Telegraph.

The finding by a mailman Jerome Wozny ended a 19-day search for the girl who was last seen at 3 p.m., Jan. 2 near a 7-Eleven Party Store at Twelve-Mile and Oakshire, Berkley.

Her body was found about a mile from where the body of Cynthia R. Cadieux, age 16, Roseville was discovered on Jan. 16, 1976 at Franklin Road, north of Fourteen-Mile.

Five Others—

Since, five other children were murdered. Four of the bodies were found along roadsides.

Besides Kristine and Miss Cadieux, Sheila Srock, age 14, 624 West Lincoln, Birmingham was found shot to ... monoxide poisoning believed caused when placed in a car trunk. She was last seen Aug. 7 walking toward I 75 and University Drive in Pontiac Township.

On Dec. 28, the body of Jill Robinson, age 12, 1213 Mayfield, Royal Oak was found shot on I 75 north of Sixteen-Mile (Big Beaver), Troy. She had been missing three-and-a-half days.

Patterson said the task force' prime responsibility is to solve the Mibelich murder, but that any leads which might solve the other deaths would also be investigated.

Similarities—

He said there are some similarities in the deaths, but nothing at this point which says any of the murders are connected.

While the autopsy isn't completed on the Mibelich death, Patterson said it could be termed a murder because of the circumstances surrounding the case.

Would Check Nation

by JOHN MICHALAK
Tribune Staff Reporter

The FBI has offered to help state and South Oakland police investigate the murder of six young persons. The latest was 10-year-old Kristine Mibelich of Berkley, whose body was found Friday in Franklin.

A task force of 25 detectives is working on the case.

A spokesman for the ... However the spokesman said Dr. Robert Sillery M.D., chief pathologist for the Medical Examiner's Office will conduct further blood and tissue tests for a final ruling. Test results won't be known for at least a week.

Prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson of Oakland County said Saturday that tests to determine the girl's exact cause of death will take a week to 10 days.

At the same time autopsy tests are being made, a Toronto, Ont., Canada, expert is working on tests he made early Saturday trying to determine if discernible fingerprints were left on the body.

50 Samples—

The expert, Bud Hinds, a civilian employe for the Ontario Provincial Police said he has taken about 50 samples from the girls hands, neck, face and thighs, "areas that might have been handled."

Hinds is credited with refining an Iodine Fuming Silverplate method of taking fingerprints from bodies.

He said a physical reaction would cause any fingerprints on the girl's ... to ... [illegible]

The Slaying of 6 Children: Its Effects on SOC

by SUSAN E. HENRY
Tribune Staff Reporter

The apprehension gripping South Oakland parents doesn't show on the surface. But, following the killing of six young persons the undercurrent is there.

Some school districts are tightening their methods of reporting absences, to spot missing children sooner.

Some parents are driving their youngsters on paper routes in the early morning hours, and back and forth to school.

Schools are receiving more calls from parents checking on youngsters who haven't returned home in the afternoon by a given time.

Meanwhile the investigation into the two most recent deaths continues by a special task force formed to ease the burden on local police departments and detective bureaus

Police still have no solid clues in any of the deaths. All are included in current investigations.

The Killings—

The series of crimes began on Jan. 15, 1976, when 16-year-old Thia Cadieux of Roseville disappeared. Her body was discovered the next day on Franklin Road north of Fourteen-Mile in Bloomfield Township. She had suffered a skull fracture.

On Jan. 19, 1976, 14-year-old Sheila Srock, 624 West Lincoln, Birmingham, was found shot to death at her sister's home, 1772 Villa, Birmingham, where she had been babysitting.

On Feb. 15, 1976, 12-year-old Mark Stebbins, 439 East Saratoga, Ferndale, disappeared. His body was discovered four days later near a Southfield Office building. He had been smothered.

On Aug. 7, 13-year-old Jane Louise Allan, 2335 Guthrie, Royal Oak, was seen on her way home from her boyfriend's house in Pontiac Township. Her body was found four days later in Miamisburg, Ohio. She died of carbon monoxide poisoning.

The Last Two—

The most recent victims were those of 12-year-old Jill Robinson, 1312 Mayfield, Royal Oak and 10-year-old Kristine Mihelich, 3653 Gardner, Berkley.

Jill Robinson disappeared Dec. 22. Her body was discovered Dec. 26 on I-75 north of Sixteen-Mile, Troy. She had been shot in the face.

Kristine disappeared Jan. 2. Nineteen days later her body was discovered in Franklin. She had been smothered.

Three of the young victims — Cynthia Cadieux, Sheila Srock and Mark Stebbins — had been sexually assaulted.

There was no evidence of sexual assault on the body of Jane Louise Allen. Police are declining to say whether Kristine Mihelich had been sexually assaulted.

Killings Spawn Concern—

School officials say the series of killings may not be the only reason more parents are driving their children to school, but it's a factor.

They also point to cold weather and, in some districts, the fact that some attendance area elementary schools have been closed because of declining enrollment — increasing the distances youngsters must travel to school.

In Ferndale, Supt. William G. Coyne said two elementary schools were closed last year and youngsters transferred to others, nearby, but further than the original buildings.

"We know our parents are driving youngsters more frequently and we believe some of it is caused by apprehension, but some of it revolves around the weather and school closings."

Precautionary Measures—

Ferndale officials are telling parents to report absences in advance, and calling parents if a child is absent and no advance report has been made.

In Taft Elementary School, the Parent Teacher Association (PTA) has organized a notification system similar to one in Royal Oak.

Coyne said each grade level at Taft has the name of another parent, at each grade level, to be called in advance in case of an absence. The parents call the school office with their lists and the school secretary then checks the list with the daily attendance sheet.

Any pupil shown absent whose parent hasn't called is then tracked down. Coyne said by 9:30 a.m., the check is complete.

In Clawson, Eugene N. Spencer has advised school to tighten up procedures for reporting absences.

Berkley's Helping Hand Plan—

Berkley school officials report new interest in a PTA-sponsored "Helping Hand" program designed to provide emergency assistance for children who become seriously ill or threatened while on their way to or from school.

Volunteers along the routes children take to or from school display a red "Helping Hand" placard in front windows. Children know they can seek emergency aid at those homes and that someone will be there.

Berkley Jaycees had paid for new placards for the program, which were at the printers when Kristine Mihelich disappeared.

Police Advice Sought—

Some police departments including Ferndale and Pleasant Ridge, have noted increases in the number of requests from PTAs, Scouts, and other groups, for officers to speak about safety and what to do if a child is approached by a stranger.

Owen W. Parent, Pleasant Ridge chief, said he usually receives only one request per year for that type of speech, normally from a preschool mothers group, but has had three in the last two weeks, from cub scout and brownie troops.

Too Much 'Wariness'?—

But School Supt. William G. Keane is voicing concerns about the great emphasis being placed on "wariness" and the large amount of publicity this is receiving.

One of the slain youngsters, Kristine Mihelich, attended Pattengill School in Berkley.

An article by Keane in the school district's January newsletter will discuss the situation.

He reports that in one instance, an "angry" parent called to tell a principal that a photographer had been "hanging around" school for an hour to take pictures of parents picking up their children.

The principal said some of the children — warned by their parents to avoid strangers — became frightened when the photographer left his car to talk to them.

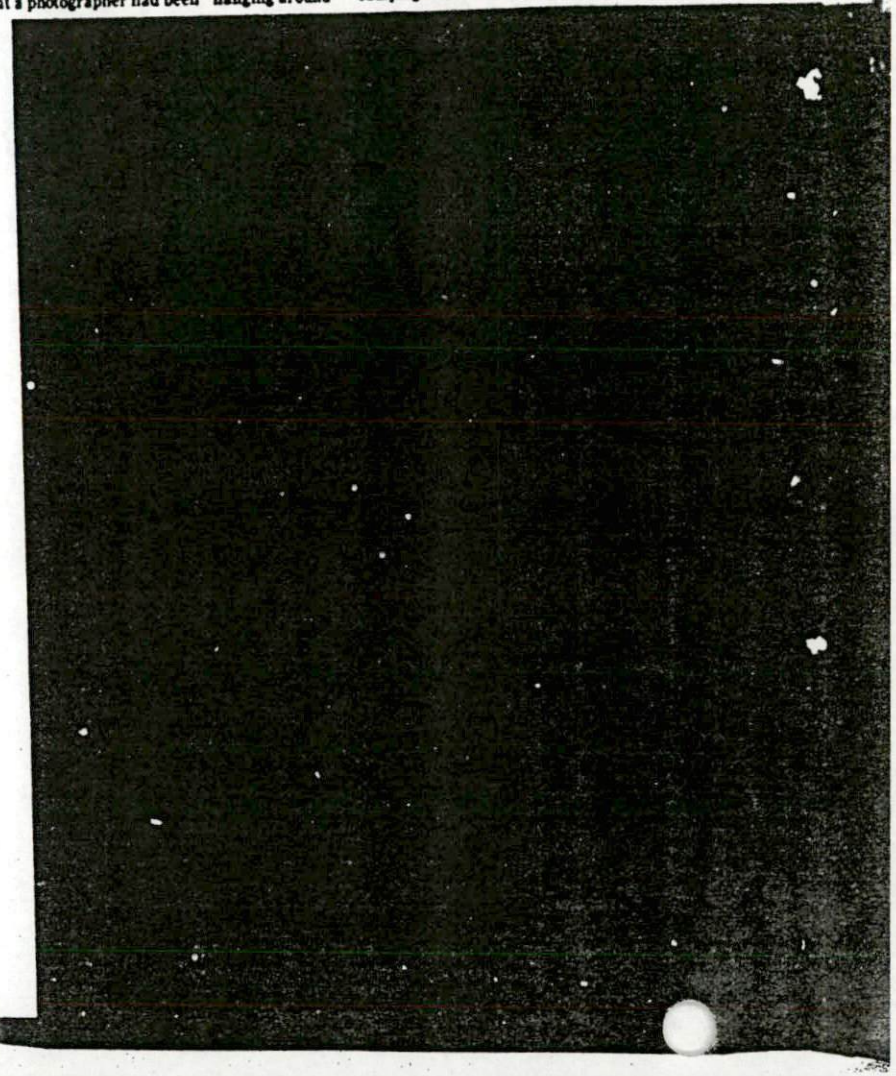
Keane said, "We're beginning to worry whether the constant exhortations in the classrooms and extra precautions aren't coming dangerously close to doing more harm than good." He asks if television and newspaper coverage might not be fueling fears.

Civic Groups Respond—

Civic groups like the Jaycees are responding to what they see as a need in the community.

In Ferndale, the Jaycees held a "town meeting" Friday night to discuss steps to insure the safety of youngsters.

Meanwhile, the Berkley Jaycee Auxiliary members, who organized a drive that produced a $16,000 reward fund after Kristine disappeared, are planning a state wide service club campaign to combat crimes against children.



How CB Chatter Led to Missing Boy

by JOHN MICHALAK
Tribune Staff Reporter

The constant chatter from CBers warning each other to beware of a young boy riding a bicycle on the I-75 median in South Oakland Wednesday helped lead police to 12-year-old Mark Anthony Wayno of Ferndale.

Officer David A. Blanchard of Royal Oak whose police car is equipped with a citizen band radio picked up the boy at 12:10 p.m.

The boy's disappearance at 10:30 p.m., Monday, led to an intensive search and a public appeal for help by Ferndale police, amid fears that the disappearance might be linked to six unsolved deaths of Oakland-Macomb County youths during the past year.

MARK WAYNO

'Constant Chatter'—

"But none of the CBers traveling I-75 knew the bicycle riding youth was Mark Wayno," said Blanchard, who was on his way to start a radar check at I-75 and Lincoln.

"There was constant chatter on the CB radio about the kid. Some said he was walking his bike and others said he was riding it."

Blanchard said he spotted the boy just north of Lincoln on the freeway. At about the same time, he was also informed by the Royal Oak radio officer that two or three persons called in to report the boy on the median.

Officer Joseph Dobson of Royal Oak said none of the calls said the youth was the missing Ferndale boy.

'Very Quiet'—

Blanchard stopped Mark and radioed Ferndale police who went to the freeway and picked up the boy and the bicycle.

Blanchard said, "He was very quiet, and anything he told me I had to prod out of him."

"He said he was going to his grandmother's house in Royal Oak, and said he stayed overnight in the Cambridge Mall at Nine-Mile and Chrysler Drive in Hazel Park.

"I asked him if he knew two shifts of Ferndale officers stayed over and looked for him. He shrugged his shoulders.

"I tried to impress on him that staying away for a long time could mean trouble."

Police Chief Donald R. Geary of Ferndale said Mark had a hamburger, french fries and milk at the police station because he hadn't eaten much in two days.

The boy's father, Robert A., 430 East Saratoga, Ferndale who is divorced and has custody of Mark and a daughter Donna, age 16, went to the police station, along with his ex-wife Delores of Detroit. The father and the two children live across the street from Mark D. Stebbins, whose body was found Feb. 19, 1978. Wayno was a pall bearer at the Stebbins' funeral.

Geary said the boy told police he ran away because of bad grades he received at Coolidge School where he is a seventh-grader.

Task Force Probe—

Meanwhile, a 35 man police task force continues to investigate the death of Kristine Mihelich, age 10, Berkley whose body was found Friday in Franklin. The body was found on Bruce Lane, 300 feet south of Thirteen-Mile, one-quarter-mile west of Telegraph.

Results of an autopsy are incomplete. A spokesman from the Oakland County medical examiner's office said tissue and blood test results may be known Friday.

Lt. Robert Robertson of Michigan State Police said the task force is primarily concerned with the Mihelich death.

"Most of our tips are about her. If information comes in about the other deaths we either investigate them, or turn them over to departments investigating those deaths."

Many Departments—

He said departments with detectives assigned to the task force are Royal Oak, Oak Park, Ferndale, Southfield, Franklin, Beverly Hills, Birmingham, Southfield Township, the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, Detroit, State Police and the Oakland County prosecutor's office.

He said Troy officers are investigating the death of Jill Robinson, age 12, 1213 Mayfield, Royal Oak, whose body was found gunned down on Dec. 26 on I-75, north of Sixteen-Mile. Troy has no officers assigned to the task force.

But Robertson said Troy officers went to Bruce Lane in Franklin after Kristine Mihelich's body was found and attended a meeting of task force officers Saturday in Southfield.

"But they told us they couldn't make men available for the task force until checks are made on tips they received. We accept that. Most of the investigative staffs around South Oakland are small. When you take guys detective bureau said eight officers in his department are working fulltime, some overtime, "on promising information we have not yet investigated. I'm sure if our leads run completely out and we have nothing more to do, our people will be working out of their office."

Suffocation killed girl

The cause of death of 10-year-old Kristine Mihelich has been determined to be suffocation, according to autopsy findings released Friday by Oakland County Prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson.

Technically, Kristine died of asphyxia, or lack of oxygen, Patterson said. The prosecutor added that she had apparently been smothered.

Kristine's snow-covered body was discovered Jan. 21 by mailman Jerry Worny in a roadside ditch off Bruce Lane, near Thirteen Mile and Telegraph in Franklin Village.

The autopsy findings confirm that Kristine, who was last seen in her hometown of Berkley Jan. 4, was murdered. Patterson had been calling the case a homicide, although no wounds were discovered on Kristine's body.

Suffocation was also the cause of death of 12-year-old Mark Stebbins, a Ferndale boy who disappeared Feb. 15 of last year. Mark's body was found near a Southfield shopping center four days later.

It was reported last week that a Toronto expert was successful in obtaining partial fingerprints from Kristine's body.

Patterson made no comment on the report, but did say that new leads had developed in the Mihelich case and were being pursued by the 21-member investigative task force which has been probing the Mihelich case.

IT COULD not be determined whether the fingerprints were of sufficient quality to permit identification.

The prints were reportedly obtained by Paul Hinds, a civilian employee of the Ontario Provincial Police. He used a chemical process involving an iodine spray and silver plates.

Kristine is the sixth victim in the series of murders involving Oakland and Macomb county youths in the last year.

The body of Cynthia Cudlzyc, 16, of Roseville, was discovered on Jan. 14 last year on Franklin Road in Bloomfield Township, about one mile from where Kristine's body was found.

Sheila Brock, a 15-year-old Berkley [illegible] was abducted Jan. 23 of last year while babysitting at her friend's home on Villa Street.

Cheryl Louise Allen of Royal Oak, 15, was found dead Aug. 1 [illegible]

Jill Gutmann, 17, also of Royal Oak, was found Dec. 16 near Big Beaver and I-75 in Troy. She had been [illegible]

The places where the kids were taken are likely places to a Cab. So a kid would probly get in a Cab with out a struggle. I think if cab company logs were checked & if cab drivers were in the areas where crimes were started, thats the guy. Also cab drivers could easily carry a gun. Please think about this - the girl might still be alive in a cab drivers home. I do not & will not accept any reward what so ever

Police check leads in shotgun slaying

Troy police are still hoping that someone who might have seen a 12-year-old Royal Oak girl between the time she left home and the time she was murdered will call 689-4456.

Although the investigation into the shotgun slaying of Jill Robinson is continuing, the search for her murderer has been stymied by a lack of knowledge of where she spent the last four days of her life.

Her body was found at 8:30 a.m. Dec. 26 off I-75 north of Big Beaver and within view of the Troy Police Department. She had been shot in the face at close range.

Police believe she had been shot where she was found.

Jill had been missing since 6:30 p.m. Dec. 22, when she left home on her bicycle following an argument with her mother, Mrs. Karol Robinson.

The last time she was seen alive was 8:30 that evening, when a family friend spotted Jill on her bike in front of Tiny Tim Hobby Shop on Woodward near Fourteen Mile.

Reports that she may have been at the Detroit Depot, at Maple and Crooks in Troy, around 6:30 a.m. Dec. 24 have not been confirmed.

"The situation right now is that neither of the two witnesses can say definitely she was there," said Sgt. George Reed, who is heading the Troy investigation.

A third witness is yet to be checked out, he said.

ACCORDING TO REED, tips are [illegible]

He hopes the "secret witness program in the Detroit News will produce some results.

The newspaper is offering $2,000 for tips leading to the girl's murderer. Information should be called to 223-7540.

Because Jill was last seen riding her bike north on Woodward, police believe she was on route to her father, Tom Robinson of Birmingham. The Robinsons are divorced.

Normally, Jill and her two sisters spend Wednesday evenings with their father, but that week the outing had been changed to Thursday.

Her bicycle was found by Royal Oak police Dec. 29 in the Twelve Mile and Main area. It was sent to the state police crime lab for tests.

SINCE THE DISCOVERY of Jill's body, a team of more than 10 detectives from the Royal Oak, Troy and Michigan State police departments have been investigating the case. The manhours and time spent have brought few results.

"We haven't got anything that makes me believe we will have an arrest within the next day, or week or even month," said Reed.

Anyone with information regarding Jill's whereabouts from Dec. 22 to Dec. 26, or who may have seen something on I-75 north of Big Beaver between 6-6 a.m. Dec. 26 should call the police at 689-4456.

She was wearing an orange parka, blue jeans, a blue wool cap and was carrying a backpack. Her purple bicycle has chrome fenders and a white

Clues Scarce in Robinson Slaying

A Troy detective spent nearly two hours surveying Troy's 34 square miles from a helicopter and searching for clues in the killing of Jill Robinson. The 12-year-old Royal Oak girl was found shot to death along I-75 near Sixteen-Mile (Big Beaver), Troy, on Dec. 26.

Sgt. Raymond Major, detective evidence technician, said he checked areas around major streets and freeways and paid close attention to woods, dirt trails. He said "everything looked clean."

Although Major declined to say whether police were also looking for Kristine Mikelich, the 13-year-old Berkley girl who has been missing since Sunday, he said, "We hoped we wouldn't find anything and we didn't."

Berkley's Motto: 'We Care'

The Search for Kristine: A Real Community Effort

by JESSE SNYDER
Tribune Staff Reporter

The disappearance of 10-year-old Kristine Mihelich, missing now for nine days, has mobilized a city into action.

Since the girl, daughter of Mrs. Deborah Ascroft, 3633 Gardner, Berkley, vanished after buying a magazine from a party store four blocks from home Jan. 2, police and dozens of volunteers have searched several different rewards funds have been created.

Berkley police say frankly they have very few clues to work with. Det. Sgt. David R. Piche, who is in charge of the case, says he believes Kristine was abducted. Two witnesses saw Kristine after she left her home about 3 p.m., Jan. 2, but Piche has no clues at all after she purchased the magazine at the store.

"It's a community tragedy," said Mayor Robert L. Eck, "And it's becoming a 'We Care' ..."

Referring to the city's motto, "We Care," he added, "People really do care here. So many individuals and organizations have come forward to help out. It's heartwarming."

The community reaction stems partly from five unsolved kidnap-slayings of children that either started or ended in South Oakland in the past year. The most recent was the death of a 12-year-old Royal Oak girl, Jill Robinson, whose body was found along I-75 in Troy Dec. 28, four days after she left home following a family argument.

Kristine's mother, Mrs. Deborah Ascroft, said she called police more quickly because she was aware of the Robinson case.

During the first two days after Kristine disappeared, Berkley police were deluged with offers of help from residents and volunteers and police from other Oakland County cities.

BECATS—

The BECATS, the city's volunteer civilian communications group, turned out Jan. 3 to conduct a city-wide search of parked cars, vacant houses and commercial trash containers.

About 20 to 30 CB radio enthusiasts from Berkley, Ferndale and Pleasant Ridge, operating on five radio channels, searched for into the night Jan. 3 and 4 in Berkley and other areas throughout South Oakland.

Troy Plans $2,000 Robinson Reward Fund

Troy council members Monday night tentatively approved a $2,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who killed 12-year-old Jill Robinson of Royal Oak and left her body on a Troy freeway Dec. 28.

Councilmen also agreed to consider a permanent reward fund to be used in seeking information on future major crimes committed in Troy.

Councilman James F. McKenna, who called for the reward program, asked City Manager Frank Gerstenacker and City Attorney William S. Wolosin to report Monday on administrative and legal details.

assaulted, police said. Marks in the snow where the body was found indicate the shooting took place there, police said.

Unsuccessful—

Detectives from Troy, Royal Oak and the Michigan State Police have been unsuccessful to date in learning where the young girl stayed during the weekend. The bicycle which she was riding when she left home was found Dec. 27 behind a building on Main, south of Twelve Mile in Royal Oak, about one mile east of her home.

The bicycle is 20 inches high, purple, with chrome fenders and a white banana seat.

McKenna said a reward ... discourage ... from committing like crimes in Troy.

[illegible] groups were establishing reward funds in the case.

The first to be announced was a fund being organized by Charles L. Hudson, co-owner of a Ferndale Party Store. Although the fund is not yet legally chartered, Hudson has collected more than $400.

Berkley Jaycee Auxiliary members organized a reward fund Thursday and in a weekend door-to-door drive, collected about $11,000, far more than the group's original $5,000 goal.

That total includes about $2,500 collected in Ferndale by the CBers who earlier in the week had searched for Kristine.

Tremendous Outpour—

"The outpour of money has been tremendous," said Mrs. Sharon Till, president of the Auxiliary. "People say that this is how they can show their support."

Mrs. Till said Kristine's disappearance has increased concern among parents for the safety of their children. "You can almost see it in the air," she said. "You can see it in the faces of parents at the shopping centers."

"You just don't think something like this could happen in Berkley. I guess everyone feels like that no matter where they live, though."

Mrs. Till said the disappearance has drawn Berkley residents together. "I know at least two families who were intending to move out of [illegible]

The program consists of volunteers who live along routes children take to and from school. The volunteers display red hands in front windows. Students know they can find help at those houses if they are threatened.

No Link to Slayings

A Berkley detective said there are no apparent links between a 24-year-old man arrested Wednesday in Southgate and the disappearance of a 10-year-old Berkley girl missing since Jan. 2.

Southgate police stopped the Taylor man for having improper license plates on his pickup truck and later charged him with violating the state's controlled substance act because drugs were found in the truck, police said.

Det. Lt. John Henry, Southgate, said Troy, Berkley and Royal Oak police were called because of the possibility that the man they arrested may have been involved in the disappearance of Kristine Mihelich, Berkley, and the shotgun killing of a 12-year-old Royal Oak girl, Jill Robinson, whose body was discovered near I-75 north of Sixteen-Mile (Big Beaver), Troy.

Lt. Patrick T. Sullivan, Ferndale, also interviewed the Taylor man because of the possibility of a link between the arrested man and the slaying of Mark Stebbins, age 12, Ferndale who was found near the parking lot of a Southfield office plaza on Ten-Mile and Greenfield, last February.

Found Shotgun—

Police said they also found a shotgun and children's clothing in the truck.

After interviewing the man for more than an hour, Sgt. David R. Piche of the Berkley Detective Bureau said he found no links between the persons being held in Southgate and the disappearance of Miss Mihelich.

"He was very cooperative," Piche said. "The clothes that were found in his pickup belong to the daughter of his girlfriend."

Piche said police are no closer to solving the mystery of Miss Mihelich's disappearance than before.

No Comment—

Two Troy detectives also interviewed Bennett for less than 30 minutes, but declined to comment on their findings.

According to Henry, Berkley police were notified because the plate on Bennett's truck was registered to a Berkley man, Thomas Spasich, 8033 Mortenson.

Spasich told The Daily Tribune that the plate had been missing since Dec. 23.

"I thought the plate had just been knocked off because a portion of the front grille of my truck also was missing," Spasich said.

Spasich said he first discovered the plate missing while Christmas shopping at Southfield's Tel-Twelve Mall, corner of Twelve-Mile and Telegraph.

Bennett was arraigned before Municipal Judge Peter E. Pech [illegible] on a charge

A Mr. W. J. Connor of _____ Royal Oak, phone 548-5553 came to the station making inquiries regarding the murder of Jill Robinson. Mr. Connor was unusually curious regarding details in this case. Mr. Connor is a local businessman operating the W. J. Connor tax service at the above address. Mr. Connor inquired why the bicycle MXK was not missed by the mother and if the bike had a K lock on it and if the bike was kept in the garage. Mr. Connor also favored the color blue according to his dress, the color suggested by Dr. Danto as being the color favored by the perpetrator on this offense. Dets Stinson and Meitzner checked the house at 1408 W. Eleven Mile, No vehicles were in the area, however, there is room for, and signs of at least two vehicles having been parked at the rear (North side) of this house, on the Hildale side.

2:25 PM, Dets. STinson and Meitzner, accompanied by Mr. Glenn Connoly, of Harold Heinanger Realty, checked the house at 923 Clovedale, (presently vacant) the former home of Robert Schumer.

Unable to learn anything from this search.

1-9-77 at 10:40 PM Off. Peters received information from Mr. Nels Baver, Pontiac, Twp., Phone # 373-8129 who suggested that a house on Adams Road North of Auburn should be checked out as there is a Japanese family living there who might have had the Robinson girl for a baby sitter.

Det. Meitzner called Mr. Nels Baver back on 1-10-77 at 9:50 AM & he added the facts that the house in question is in front of a factory with 2 tractor trailer cabs parked in frontof it.

1-11-76 at 1:10 PM Det. Meitzner & Stinson stopped out to the house, & talked to Mr. Antonio Goquiolay & several employees of Inter Corp Inc. who occupy this house & use it as offices. They were shown a picture of Jill Robinson with negative results.

Lt. Jerry Simmons of The Southfield Police Dept. set up a meeting for all Police Departments interested & involved in the recent homicides, at the Southfield Parks & Recreation Building in Southfield at 9:30 AM on 1-12-77.

Det. Meitzner attended the meeting for the Royal Oak Police Dept. and the discussion centered on the use of a computer for handling all of the information accumulated by all the Police Departments in the investigation of the recent homicides on young people.

The consensus of opinion seemed to be to put all the names & information of any & all persons contacted or reporting information in to the computer in order to avoid duplication of effort & to determine if some of the same names are coming up in more then one occasion.

Represenatives of C L E M I S were present along with members of the Michigan State Police & the C L E M I S represenatives explained how their computer could be used. There would be a separate case number used which could be purged at a later date after the crimes are solved.

There was also discussion of the setting up of a group of officers from each Police Dept. involved where upon these men could be called on to assist in new information investigation on the present cases as well as any new cases that come up. They would like to have one or more Officers from each department that could be called out as a group if needed.

There is to be a meeting of the Police Chiefs later this afternoon and the above information will be explained to them by Lt. Simmons of the Southfield Police Dept.

Lieutenant Earl Ringer
Royal Oak Police Department
Royal Oak, Michigan

Lieutenant Ringer:

I'm worried about false polygraph readings when I take a polygraph test as of reactions within my body caused by the MT. (MT is the abbreviation for mysterious, odious, contemporary, sabotaging, scientific forces.) Thus, I do not want law enforcement agencies to give me lie detector tests, for I fear that lie detector testing might likely provide evidence to pin crimes on me that I did not do.

I'm still interested in lie detector testing of me, though. Such testing as that might prove helpful in knowing what motivates a criminal to commit a criminal act (Note my previous theorizing on the MT in a letter to the Royal Oak Police Department.) and be helpful in stopping a lot of crime.

My current residence, which is at the place referred to in the return address of this letter, has reasonable potential for providing me with a quiet, clean, and comfortable place to stay at night, and the place is relatively OK to be in throughout much of the day. During that time some car-traffic noise has annoyed me among other things.

Sincerely,

Edward R. Pongraz

RE: "Oakland County Child Killer" meeting

COPY

This morning, I attended the a meeting hosted by the Michigan State Police regarding the "Oakland County Child Killer" investigation. The meeting was coordinated by Lt. Ted Monfette of the State Police, and Det/Sgt. Donald Laymond of the State Police. In attendance were Sgt. Mike Sutton of the Oakland County Sheriffs Department, Lt. Mike Struble of the Royal Oak Police Department, Detective Rick Wielgat of Ferndale Police, and myself. Those not in attendance that were supposed to be were, the FBI, Ray Anger from Berkley, and another area Detective that seems to be quite knowledgeable regarding the murders. There was little information unveiled regarding any case. It appeared that Lt. Monfette was simply attempting to establish a group of investigators that he will be able to assign tips to, should any come in. There was no reason given that we should expect any more tips to come in, in the near future.
The recent topic of DNA testing on some hair samples that were recovered was briefly discussed. It seems that there have been requests made to the FBI to do DNA tests on those hairs and compare the results to a deceased suspect. Elimination samples are being collected from family members.
I expressed our complete cooperation in any further investigation regarding the case. Lt. Monfette will contact myself or you, should he have any requests.

Trio must wait for DNA results

County officials, detective fly to Wyoming for exhumation of suspect in '70s child killings

By CHARLES CRUMM
Of The Oakland Press

It will be weeks before lab tests determine if a hair on the body of a victim in four Oakland County child killings belonged to a suspect who died in Wyoming.

Oakland County Executive L. Brooks Patterson, the county's medical examiner and a Berkley detective flew to Wyoming on Monday to witness the suspect's body being exhumed for DNA testing.

Patterson was the county prosecutor during the child killings in the 1970s.

He and Medical Examiner L.J. Dragovic and Berkley Detective Ray Anger are also expected to question residents in the town of recluse, Wyo., about the suspect.

David Norberg, long suspected in the slayings, died in a car accident in 1981.

DNA samples are to be sent to a FBI crime laboratory for analysis and companions, a process expected to take several weeks.

"We're going on one hair follicle," Patterson said Monday.

"It could have come from the morgue technician or a police officer. He (Norberg) may very well be the guy, but it might not be his hair. I think it's a long shot but it's a shot we have to take.

"Its' probably on of the open from my 16 years as a prosecutor, not solving this case and bringing closure to those four families," Patterson said.

Patterson said that when Anger asked for help in financing the trip, he agreed and arranged for a private jet through a family friend.

"He builds a compelling circumstantial case," Patterson said of Anger.

"He (Norberg) was a suspect at the time, he was uncooperative, he refused a polygraph and he had access to a remote location.

"I think the most compelling was a box of targets his ex-wife gave us," Patterson said.

"There was a cross with the name Christine on it. She was one of the victims."
