

- Suspect Delproposto is deceased, but his brother John DelProposto as of 2018 is alive living in Florida. Robert & John have the same mother. John's DNA needs to be compared to the hair from Sloan's car that matched hairs from Stebbins & King's bodies.

Sept. 12th, 2019: Cathy Broad (King) forwarded some information a day or two ago about a private lab that is developing Mitochondrial DNA profiles from hair fragments with a root mass. This is new developing technology and SHOULD BE EXPLORED IN OUR CASE! I will get this information to the Michigan State Police before I leave.

Sept. 12th, 2019: I spoke with Prosecutor Worthy this week and agreed, even though I'm leaving the office, that I would stay on the OCCK case as a consultant and continue to work with MSP Detectives Street & Lutz. I also spoke with D/Sgt. Street about this. He was glad I was staying involved in the case. I told him I wouldn't leave them hanging and they can call me anytime. Detective Tim Larion from the WCPO will be the point man for our office on the OCCK case.

Sept. 12th, 2019: Detective Williams met with Prosecutor Worthy today about Attorney [REDACTED] & his witness client. After a lengthy conversation, Kym ask Detective Williams to arrange a meeting between her & Attorney [REDACTED] to discuss this in person. She asked Detective Williams to be available to be part of the meeting. This message was relayed to Attorney [REDACTED] and were waiting to hear his response. Believe survivors the first time. See Epstein, J.

Sept. 17th, 2019: LAST DAY AT THE PROSECUTOR'S OFFICE. After almost 10 years here and 230 more pages of notes on the OCCK case, detective Williams is leaving the office but staying on the case with two great MSP detectives, D/Sgt Sean Street & D/Sgt Rich Lutz. The case continues.....
